Fun Fact

New Orleans is usually pronounced by locals as “noo-AW-lyenz,” “noo-AW-linz,” “noo-OR-linz,” or “noo-OR-lyenz.” The tendency among people around the world to say “noo-or-LEENZ” stems both from the use of that pronunciation by singers and songwriters, who find it easy to rhyme, and from accepted pronunciations of other cities named Orleans in the English speaking world; however that pronunciation is generally disdained by the residents of New Orleans. The pronunciation “NAW-linz” is likewise not generally used nor liked by locals but has been popularized by the tourist trade.

ABOUT LOYOLA AND THE HOSPITAL

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY, NEW ORLEANS SCHOOL OF NURSING

Loyola University, New Orleans has been selected as one of the United States best colleges by U.S. News and World Report. Loyola University’s Department of Nursing has been educating RNs since the 1970s when the University started one of the first B.S.N. programs in the country designed for working RNs.

Loyola’s B.S.N. completion and M.S.N. programs are accredited by the National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission,.

The Department of Nursing at Loyola is located in City College, a division of the University dedicated to providing education to working adults. One of the primary goals of the College is to offer working adults the opportunity to develop professionally and personally through learning formats that are compatible with work and family. This focus makes Loyola an ideal fit for GSA nurses who must work full-time and attend school part-time.

ABOUT THE HOSPITAL

Our hospital partner offers a full range of inpatient and outpatient care. Since opening in the 1950s, the hospital has remained a not-for-profit facility, governed by an independent board of trustees made up of community volunteers.

The hospital has more than 200 patient beds with 7,700 inpatient admissions and 171,000 outpatient visits each year.

The hospital’s Emergency Care Center, one of the area’s busiest emergency rooms, is staffed around the clock. To meet growing demand, construction is currently underway which will double the size of our hospital partner’s emergency rooms.

MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS

This opportunity is open to U.S. and international registered nurses that meet the following requirements:

- RN License — All applicants must hold an active and unencumbered nurse license.
- Clinical Experience — One year of acute care hospital-based nursing experience is required. Previous experience of caring for children is desirable but not essential, as full training will be given.
- Commitment — Nurses accepted into the program must commit to the program for 36 months and have the desire to pursue an advanced nursing degree.
